United Nations launches journalist competition on sustainable energy in least developed countries

Calling all journalists from the Least Developed Countries - The United Nations Office of the High Representative for Least Developed Countries, Landlocked Developing Countries and Small Island Developing States (UN-OHRLLS) is looking for inspiring stories on how sustainable energy positively impacts communities and individuals in the world's Least Developed Countries.

Three winners of the 'Voices of a Brighter Future' competition will have their work featured by the United Nations and other news outlets, with travel and expenses covered to report from the Sustainable Energy for All Forum in Lisbon, Portugal 2-3 May 2018.

Entries will be judged by a high-level panel from the United Nations, sustainable energy and media sector.

Submissions should have been published or broadcast between 16 August 2017 and 16 March 2018 and submitted to us no later than midnight on 16 March 2018 (EST). Please read the guidelines for submissions in full.

Please note this competition is only open for journalists who are nationals from Least Developed Countries. A full list of these countries is available here: <http://bit.ly/2v4Oawy>
